Ms. Hall, pursuant to your request I am providing you with the following information relating to your now closed criminal case. This represents the most recent negotiation communication which I sent on your behalf, and is therefore the negotiation communication most proximate in time to the dismissal of your case by the State.

I, Samuel Backman, on behalf of my client Cynjo Hall, sent the following negotiation message to the deputy prosecuting attorney handling Ms. Hall's criminal case (Snohomish County District Court, cause number 18580A19D):

Re: Cynjo Hall 18580A19D... "I'd just request dismissal; I think she made a mistake, but it was a mistake that she got fired for and being fired was the appropriate consequence for the mistake she made. You might also look at RCW 66.44.010: Local officers to enforce law—Authority of board—Liquor enforcement officers. \(wa.gov\). This statute is the subject of some house bills which update it to include language indicating that enforcement of Cannabis rules is also within the jurisdiction of Liquor and Cannabis enforcement officers, but as it currently exists it hasn't been updated such that they have authority to investigate and charge criminal issues, at least that's my reading. Initially I thought of this as more of a Knapsted motion, but now I think it's a 3.6 suppression issue since the search would have been illegal if they didn't have authority to investigate in the first place. It's a narrow issue but I think it's there."

This message was sent from myself to the State's representative in the matter on 8/17/2021.

Respectfully

Samuel Backman, WSBA: 56623
